

Important Disclosures

The Templum website is not intended to provide legal, tax, investment or financial advice. The information contained herein is provided for informational and educational purposes only.

None of the information displayed on or downloadable from, nor any of the applications and services available via the Templum website represent an offer to buy or sell, or the solicitation of an offer to buy or sell any security, nor does it constitute an offer to provide investment advice or service.

Investing in private, unregistered securities is speculative and involves a high degree of risk. You must be prepared to withstand a total loss of your investment. You are strongly encouraged to complete your own independent due diligence before investing in private, unregistered securities, including obtaining additional information, opinions, financial projections, and legal or other investment advice.

Investments in private, unregistered securities, including private funds and other private placement offerings, are not for everyone and entail risks that differ from more traditional investments. When considering such investments, you should consider the fact that some products may utilize leverage and other speculative investment practices that may increase the risk of investment loss and be illiquid, are not required to provide periodic disclosures, pricing or valuation information to investors, may involve complex tax structures, and are not subject to the same regulatory requirements as publicly registered securities.

Investing in private, unregistered securities is not suitable for all investors. An investment in private, unregistered securities is highly speculative and involves a high degree of risk and should only be considered as a long-term investment. Private, unregistered securities are also highly illiquid and there is no guarantee that a market will develop for such securities, including on the Templum Markets LLC Alternative Trading System. Accordingly, investing in private, unregistered securities is appropriate only for those investors who can tolerate a high degree of risk and do not require a liquid investment.

Templum Markets, LLC is not: (a) a registered exchange under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934; (b) a registered investment advisor under the Investment Advisors Act of 1940; or (c) a financial or tax planner, and does not offer legal, financial, investment or tax advice to any user of Templum's website. The information provided on this site or in any communication containing a link to this site is not intended for distribution to, or use by, any person or entity in any jurisdiction or country where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation or which would subject Templum or its affiliates to any registration requirement within such jurisdiction or country.

Forward Looking Statements

Statements and opinions throughout this website that are not historical facts are “forward-looking statements” that involve risks and uncertainties. “Forward-looking statements,” as it is defined under Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, Section 21-B of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and the Private Securities Litigation Act of 1995 include words such as “opportunities,” “trends,” “potential,” “possible,” “estimates,” “may,” “will,” “could,” “should,” “anticipates,” “expects,” or any synonymous language. Such forward-looking statements are subject to a number of both known and unknown risks and uncertainties outside the control of Templum and its affiliates that could cause actual results to materially differ from those anticipated or projected. You agree to carefully evaluate such forward-looking statements found on this website and not place undue reliance upon any such statements.
